Many points of attraction

DVOE base compatibility index

Talking is your strong suit. What matters is agreeing on tempo and on how to show care.

It matters to both of you that a loved one is nearby and listens. Differences in tempo and in the habits of care don't get in the way if you talk them through in advance.

The index is a DVOE indicator calculated by the rules of the chosen systems. It is not the probability of the relationship succeeding and not a rating of your couple.

This is a fictional example: Alina and Maxim are invented characters. Your analysis will contain your own names, dates and conclusions for your pair.

THREE MAIN TAKEAWAYS

Three takeaways that come up most often when looking at the pair.

01

Starting a conversation comes easily

Both of you quickly join a discussion and are ready to explain your point of view. This can help you come back to a topic after a pause.

Basis: Psychomatrix · Western zodiac

02

Your tempo is different

Alina more often wants to settle a question right away, while Maxim needs time to think. This can become a reason to talk about agreements.

Basis: Psychomatrix

03

Care looks different

One shows care through actions, the other through words. It helps to ask each other what will support you right now.

Basis: Chinese zodiac

COMMON GROUND AND DIFFERENCES

Where you lean on each other and where you see things differently

+ COMMON GROUND

What brings you especially close

Open conversation

Both of you are comfortable discussing plans and expectations out loud.

Basis: Psychomatrix

Shared values in daily life

A similar attitude to order and commitments makes joint decisions easier.

Basis: Psychomatrix

Interest in the new

You are both drawn to small shared experiments — from trips to habits.

Basis: Western zodiac

≠ DIFFERENCES

Where you differ noticeably

Speed of decisions

A different tempo can feel like pressure or like indifference, though the intentions are different.

Basis: Psychomatrix

Ways of caring

The wish to help with deeds and the wish to be heard can miss each other.

Basis: Chinese zodiac

Personal space

The partners' need for time alone is expressed differently.

Basis: Western zodiac

RELATIONSHIP AREAS

How it may show up in different areas

Each area starts with the key point and what helps, followed by the full commentary.

EMOTIONAL CLOSENESS

Closeness grows through clear contact

WHAT HELPS

Agree on a small ritual: for example, five minutes without phones in the evening.

It matters to you to feel that the other is reachable. Short signs of attention during the day can mean more than rare long conversations.

COMMUNICATION

Talking is easier for you than staying silent

WHAT HELPS

Say it in advance: "I need time to think, I'll come back to the conversation this evening."

You quickly find a common language, but pauses can be read differently: as reflection or as distance.

ATTRACTION

Novelty keeps the interest alive

WHAT HELPS

Plan small joint events instead of putting them off until "later".

Within this interpretation, attraction is fed by shared impressions and light humour.

TRUST AND BOUNDARIES

Trust is built on agreements

WHAT HELPS

Name expectations out loud while they are still small.

Small promises kept work as a foundation for you. Unspoken expectations, on the other hand, can pile up.

EVERYDAY LIFE

Daily life can be shared by strengths

WHAT HELPS

Once a week, briefly review how the tasks are divided.

A different attitude to deadlines makes a simple agreement about who is responsible for what useful.

FAMILY AND THE FUTURE

Plans are better discussed step by step

WHAT HELPS

Pick one topic per conversation and write down what you agreed.

Big topics are easier to discuss in parts than to try to settle everything at once.

TECHNICAL PART · HOW YOUR PAIR IS READ

What the analysis is made of

The percentage is calculated by the system using fixed rules. The AI explains how different approaches add up to an overall picture of the pair. Below, each approach on its own.

NATAL DYNAMICS OF THE PAIR

What the natal chart shows

A sample on fictional data. Invented dates, times and places of birth were set for Alina and Maxim (Alina — October 8, 1996, 14:30, Saint Petersburg; Maxim — June 4, 1994, 09:10, Moscow). The chart and text below are what the same calculation and the same generation as in the paid analysis produced from this data. It is not a calculation for a real person.

Natal synastry combines supportive links with tense aspects between personal planets. In the symbolic reading there is both mutual interest and a need to check emotional expectations more carefully.

Emotional contact

A harmonious aspect of Alina's Mars to Maxim's Moon can link initiative with a quick emotional response. The tense aspect of Alina's Sun to Maxim's Moon adds another angle: the way of showing oneself and the emotional need may not always coincide.

Communication

A harmonious aspect of Alina's Mercury to Maxim's Uranus can support unexpected ideas and an unconventional exchange of thoughts. The harmonious link of Alina's Mercury with Maxim's Venus gives a symbolic theme of gentle, pleasant communication; it doesn't remove the need to pick the right moment.

Attraction

The leading supportive aspect, Alina's Mars to Maxim's Moon, is associated with an emotionally lively response. A harmonious aspect of Alina's Venus to Maxim's Mars adds an interpretation of mutual interest and activity.

Interaction dynamic

A harmonious Sun–Sun aspect can describe shared interest and the chance to keep each other's curiosity alive. Next to it stand the tense links of Alina's Sun with Maxim's Moon and Venus: they remind you that shared interest doesn't guarantee the same understanding of attention and emotional support.

Key aspects

Alina's Mars — Maxim's Moon

In this reading a harmonious aspect connects Alina's initiative with Maxim's emotional response; the contact may feel lively and active.

Alina's Mercury — Maxim's Venus

A harmonious link can lend conversation softness and help express affection in words.

Alina's Sun — Maxim's Sun

A harmonious aspect offers an angle on mutual interest and the chance to support each other's ideas.

Alina's Sun — Maxim's Moon

A tense aspect can highlight the difference between how Alina shows herself and Maxim's emotional needs.

Alina's Sun — Maxim's Venus

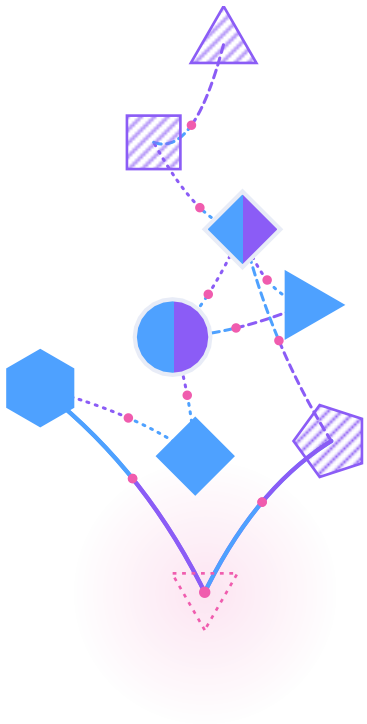

A tense aspect allows for a mismatch between Alina's self-expression and the kind of attention Maxim finds especially clear.

HUMAN DESIGN OF

How your designs connect

A sample on fictional data. Invented dates, times and places of birth were set for Alina and Maxim (Alina — October 8, 1996, 14:30, Saint Petersburg; Maxim — June 4, 1994, 09:10, Moscow). The chart and text below are what the same calculation and the same generation as in the paid analysis produced from this data. It is not a calculation for a real person.

In Human Design Alina is listed as a Manifesting Generator and Maxim as a Manifestor; their strategies and authorities differ too. Within this system that can be read as different ways of entering action and making decisions, not as an instruction about who should lead the pair.

Map of interacting centers: a node's colour shows who has it defined, the lines are shared channels.

Types and strategies

Alina's strategy is to respond, Maxim's to inform. As a possible practical translation: one of you may need to feel a response to the situation first, the other to state an intention and give notice of an action. It helps to talk through the move from idea to step.

Authority and decisions

Alina has sacral authority, Maxim emotional authority. In the logic of the system these are different guides for choosing: a quick response, and a decision that takes emotional clarity into account. For an important joint decision you can first listen to the initial reaction, then give both of you time to check it.

Connection dynamic

The partners share defined Throat and G centers, while the Root center is defined only in the combination in this model. This gives a symbolic image of steadiness that arises together in this area; it shouldn't be taken for a permanent state or a promise of trouble-free interaction. Four channels are marked as arising in the combination, so the system links some themes specifically to contact as a pair.

Key connection signals

Different strategies for action

Alina is assigned the strategy of responding, Maxim that of informing. Before an important step an exchange can help: what has already ripened in one of you and what the other needs to be told.

Different authorities

In the system Alina has sacral authority and Maxim emotional authority. It's an invitation not to expect the same decision-making tempo from both.

Shared Throat and G centers

Both centers are defined in both partners. Within the system they become a shared theme of interaction and can be symbolically linked to self-expression and direction.

The Root center in the combination

In the given data it is defined only in the pair. This is a feature of the composite chart, not a claim that one person must constantly create steadiness for the other.

SCENARIOS · NO LABELS, NO VERDICTS

Where tension may arise

Each scenario reads step by step: the situation, how each of you may read it, and what helps.

1

Decide now or think about it

SITUATION

A decision is needed and the partners have a different tempo.

One insists, the other goes quiet.

HOW IT MAY BE READ

- Alina may feel that the question is being ignored.
- Maxim may feel pressured.

What increases the tension: Tiredness and lack of time.

WHAT HELPS

Set a time to come back to the conversation and keep it.

2

Care in the wrong way

SITUATION

One helps with deeds, the other needs words of support.

The help goes unnoticed and the words feel empty.

HOW IT MAY BE READ

- Alina may feel she isn't being heard.
- Maxim may feel his efforts aren't appreciated.

What increases the tension: Unspoken expectations.

WHAT HELPS

Ask: "Do you want help right now, or for me to listen?"

3

SCENARIO 3

An evening to yourself

SITUATION

One wants to be alone, the other wants to spend time together.

A refusal is read as rejection.

HOW IT MAY BE READ

- Alina may feel left out.
- Maxim may feel his boundaries aren't respected.

What increases the tension: An unnamed reason.

WHAT HELPS

Name the reason and offer a specific time to meet.

What you could try

1 Set a time for difficult topics

If a conversation comes at the wrong time, agree on a specific hour and come back to it.

WHY IT SUITS YOU

Helps with the different tempo.

2 Ask which kind of care is needed

Once a week ask: "What would help you more right now — help or attention?"

WHY IT SUITS YOU

Smooths the difference in ways of caring.

3 Name expectations out loud

Before an important conversation, briefly say what you expect from it.

WHY IT SUITS YOU

Reduces misunderstanding.

4 Plan small joint events

Once a week pick one shared activity and put it in the calendar.

WHY IT SUITS YOU

Keeps the interest in each other alive.

INSTEAD OF A VERDICT

This is not a verdict but a reason to talk
